

Adobe Sign and SAP SuccessFactors.

Accelerate human capital management workflows and make it easier to hire great candidates, speed up the onboarding process, and eliminate manual paperwork.

Employees are the most important asset of any company. In today's fast-paced market, finding, hiring, and keeping the right talent requires a competitive edge. That's why your organization uses SAP SuccessFactors to automate HR and workforce experiences. But when it's time for candidates and employees to sign NDAs, offer letters, or benefit enrollment forms, manual signatures can slow HR processes and introduce unnecessary risk. With Adobe Sign, you can add trusted, legal e-signatures to SuccessFactors and make end-to-end digital human capital management (HCM) workflows a reality.

Accelerate recruiting and onboarding.

When you find a great candidate, you want to close the deal before someone else does. With Adobe Sign, you can create and send offer letters for e-signature directly from the SuccessFactors Recruiting application to any candidate with an email address. Real-time tracking lets you monitor the approval status of all outstanding letters throughout the entire signing process. And once signed, approved documents are automatically archived in SuccessFactors, along with a full audit trail. Adobe Sign also simplifies onboarding by making it easy to send benefit enrollment forms and rights agreements to new hires to get them up and running quickly. In fact, Adobe Sign is 30% faster than competitive solutions.

Deliver exceptional experiences.

Impress employees and candidates with a seamless signing experience. When an HR document is ready for e-signature, recipients receive an email with a link. All they have to do is click to sign from any browser or mobile device, no matter where they are. No additional software is needed.

You can even add your company's branding and customized communications to the signing process to personalize interactions and deliver a consistent experience across every touchpoint. With Adobe Sign, you can engage candidates and employees, while reducing response times for important documents from weeks to days or even hours.
